OPIP OVERVIEW

In today's scenario, everybody is well aware about the importance of combustion. The key to the development of mankind was the discovery of how to manage the combustion process.

This oPIP is an introductory course on the fundamentals of combustion for SI and CI engines. It is important to understand the combustion phenomenon in order to design or develop better combustion engines, keeping an aim to increase the efficiency and to reduce the pollution from engines. This oPIP will also introduce Advanced Combustion Concepts that maximize engine efficiency and minimize emission formation within the engine cylinders.

Join this oPIP to understand combustion fundamentals, stages of gasoline and diesel combustion, advanced combustion concepts and much more, in a systematic flow.
